While you were on the train back home you saw this advert in a free magazine. As you know that your friend Andrew is very fond of this type of contest, send him a voice message with the most relevant information about it using your own words.

The poster features a central vintage-style microphone on a stand, set against a dark red background with radiating light effects. At the top, the text 'Sweet G's' is written in a large, stylized, red cursive font with a white outline. Below this, 'KARAOKE COMPETITION' is written in a bold, white, blocky font. To the right of the microphone is a circular seal with 'EST. 2017' at the top, 'Start Time 8:00pm' in the center, and 'MUSIC LIVE' at the bottom. The text is arranged in columns around the microphone, detailing the qualifying dates, the number of finalists, the songs they will perform, and the prizes.
